

- .01 An employee who is assigned temporarily to the principal duties and responsibilities of a higher rated position shall be paid at a rate which is next higher than the employee's present salary rate, in the range applicable to the higher rated position, for each hour so worked.
- .02 An employee, who is assigned to a lower-rated classification other than through disciplinary demotion, shall have salary maintained at his or her previous level until it can be incorporated into the negotiated salary range for the lower-rated classification.

